Rebecca and I are coming down next Wednesday for the training (I think I've heard that it starts at 8, but do you know when it is suppose to end?). Got to love Fall River, huh? I've been there a couple times (Rebecca actually has a case there next Tuesday) – the courthouse is pretty nice and it reminds me of the Federal Courthouse here in Springfield. Thanks for your BZP input. I knew that federally it is a schedule 1, but you know how the MGLs are for keeping up with the times. Just wanted to make sure that we are calling it the same thing as you do in Boston in case chemists from both labs are needed at the same trial. Take care.

Hey Sonja,

This week isn't too bad, but next week looks crazy. I was in Fall River yesterday. Are you and Rebecca coming down here on Wed? If so, it will be great to see you.

As for BZP, we report it as BZP and currently call it Class E. It is a Schedule 1 Federally, but it is not scheduled in the MGL.

Thanks

Hi Annie-

I hope all is well in Boston and that your court schedule hasn't been too hectic. I'm just wondering what you guys do with BZP results – do you report it as BZP? If so, do you report it as an 'E' or not? I know that it is not a prescription drug, but a while back Cam said to call it an 'E', so I'm sure how (if at all) it falls under that class. Thanks.
